ROMMEL'S FORCES WITHDRAW FURTHER UNDER SOLID CURTAIN OF ALLIED AIR POWER BLASTING

Giant American and British Bombers Make Devastating Raid BRITISH HOLD INITIATIVE Score Direct Hits On Shipping And Start Many Fires

By International News Service WITH BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY IN EGYPT, July 7.—With a solid curtain of Allied air power blasting Axis mechanized columns and ports from El Alamein all the way to Benghazi, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces staged a further withdrawal in the El Alamein area today. Giant American and British bombers staged a devastating day raid on the western port of Benghazi in Libya, blasting at enemy shipping and starting numerous fires. It was emphasized that the revitalized British Eighth Army retains the initiative in fighting around the desert bottleneck between the Mediterranean and the Qattara depression. The latest Middle East command communique declared: "While our air force continues to attack the enemy in the El Alamein battle area, there was little activity on land yesterday except shelling by both sides. "British and United States heavy bombers staged a day raid on Benghazi, scoring direct hits on enemy shipping and starting many fires." Earlier it was stated that powerful tank and gun reinforcements had reached the Eighth Army.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

By International News Service The embattled United Nations observed two momentous dates today in the war against aggression. Five years ago the ruthless militarists of Japan created the China "incident" at Marco Polo bridge at Peiping which gave them the needed excuse to launch their assault on a peaceful and weak nation. This established the pattern which Benito Mussolini followed in his aggression against Ethiopia and which was embellished and perfected by Adolf Hitler and his Nazi henchmen in Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland. July 7th also marks the seventh month since the treacherous sneak attack by the Japanese on Pearl Harbor plunged the United States into the war—with no pretense of creating an incident. And today on far-flung fronts encircling the globe the finally aroused democracies battled for survival, struggling grimly to hold back the foe until their strength can be organized to deliver the crushing blow. The picture today was none too bright. The totalitarian aggressors ruled the riches of the Pacific. China struggled along against overwhelming odds. Europe lay enslaved under the conquerors' yoke. Axis submarines roamed the oceans in terrible menace to the supply lines of the Allied Nations, striving desperately to get men and supplies to a dozen active theaters of war. But while the Axis held the initiative, the Allies held the initiative.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Effective July 1st, Andrew H. Schuler, senior clerk at Perkaskie post office, has been named assistant postmaster. There has been no assistant postmaster since the death of William Kindig in 1926. The appointment of an assistant facilitates the work at the post office and relieves Postmaster Lester C. Trauger of much responsibility. Schuler entered the Postal Service here as a village delivery carrier when that service was instituted on August 1st, 1917. In 1919 he was promoted to a clerkship and now ranks as the senior clerk. The assistant Postmaster adds $200 to Schuler's annual salary. The Morrisville Woman's Club executive board met at the home of Mrs. Robert Green, when the budget for the new year was approved. The board voted to continue to support the following groups: Public

Miss Jeannette Harrison, Aged 90, Dies at Hulmeville

HULMEVILLE, July 7.—One of Hulmeville's oldest residents, Miss Jeannette R. Harrison, died early this morning at the home of her brother, William K. Harrison, Sr., Walnut street. Miss Harrison, who was 90 years of age, is a descendant of two prominent Bucks county families, the Harrisons and Hulmes. Having spent most of her life in this borough, she was familiar with much of the town's history, and could recall many interesting episodes of 70 and 80 years ago. She was the daughter of the late Samuel H. and Jeannette J. Harrison, and had spent some of her early years in Bensalem Township. A member of Grace Episcopal Church, and of the Altar Guild of that church, "Miss Jennie," as she was known to all, was frequently consulted on matters of altar decorations of the Episcopal Church. For many years, when physically able, she was a faithful attendant at services of worship at the local edifice. Miss Harrison enjoyed excellent health for one of her years until last March. She was at that time removed to the home of her brother, but had returned to her own home when she improved slightly. However, for the past three weeks she had been confined to bed at the home of Mr. Harrison, who is her only survivor with the exception of several nieces and nephews. The funeral service will be conducted by the Rev. Albert W. Eastburn, vicar of Grace Episcopal Church, on Friday at two p. m., at the late home of the deceased, Bellevue avenue. Burial in Beechwood Cemetery will be in charge of Charles Hafner, funeral director. Friends may call Thursday evening.

PROCLAMATION

TO THE CITIZENS OF BRISTOL:

The U. S. O. War Fund Campaign started yesterday in Bucks County. It is a test of you and me and all Americans. The speed with which we raise our quota will show the determination of the American people to support the war for victory.

The six national member agencies supported by the U. S. O. are The Young Men's Christian Association, National Catholic Community Service, Salvation Army, Young Women's Christian Association, Jewish Welfare Board, and National Traveler's Aid Association — serving our men and women in the armed forces at home, abroad, and on the high seas. There is no distinction in regard to race, creed, or color.

The quota for Bristol Borough is $4,500—It can and must be raised, and I hope it will be exceeded. There are no local expenses—every dollar collected goes to the U. S. O. Your ward solicitor will be a friend and neighbor. Greet him with a smile and with your dollars. He will give you an official receipt.

We can show other communities how Bristol does a job—so let's go!

Let us show our boys and all those who are near and dear to them that the friends and citizens of their home town are for, with and back of them always.

I heartily approve and sponsor this work and earnestly ask the co-operation of our citizens. We cannot do too much for those who are pledging their all.

Feel Optimistic Over Transportation Line

WARMINSTER, July 7.—(INS)—Warminster residents today were optimistic over establishment of transportation facilities to nearby Hattboro as a result of William H. Dare's offer to operate a bus line. Dare, a private operator from Hattboro, appeared when hopes for transportation had ebbed due to the refusal of the Philadelphia Transit Co., and the Reading Bus Lines to link the two towns. Attorney J. Albert Taylor, at a meeting of Warminster's leading citizens last night, stated that $300 for a Pennsylvania Utilities Commission franchise would be raised for Dare to provide the buses. If the move is approved by the PUC, the buses will go into operation about August 1, he said; the line running from Hattboro, through Warminster, to Buckingham, some 10 miles away. At present some 2,000 Warminster residents have no public transportation. They must either walk to Hattboro, nearest shopping center, or use what little gas they have to ride.

FREE PRESS

Thousands of words have been spoken and written, mostly by newspapermen, of the importance of maintaining a free press in order to hasten the successful ending of this war. William O. Douglas, United States Court justice, joins the chorus.

"The press clearly has a fight on its hands," Justice Douglas told the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association. "It must make war on our illusions and on our wishful thinking. The front in which it must fight is as vital as that on which the Air Corps, or the steel industry or our farmers are mobilized. Our Democracy cannot function effectively unless a free press helps the people to keep themselves mentally fit. Let us never forget that free, frank and bold discussion is the very life of this kind of government. Upon that rock the Founding Fathers built this society."

"We as a people know no substitute for a free press. For the people cannot keep themselves mentally fit and alert in this unfamiliar, complicated, kaleidoscopically changing world without the aid and guidance of a free and masterfully competent press."

"When we have fought our way to victory, the Nazis will finally understand that the decisive secret weapon in our arsenal is the mind and spirit of the average American, who wants to know how he can do his job better. This is the reason why the average American is counting on the ability of the press to keep him on the right course during these dark days."

GARDEN VALUES

The much-maligned Victory Gardens, and those who have been planting and hoeing them, have at last come into their own and have received recognition for their economic and dietary values.

The back-yard gardener, it seems, is deserving of more than the expected pride of productivity. His efforts may turn into a neat economic asset—if bugs and bad weather do not spoil his crops—and the Victory Gardens may be responsible for building up a resistance to one of the most dreaded of diseases.

On the economic front the home gardener will be pleased to learn that the prices of major garden items quoted on the Chicago produce market to professional gardeners ranged up to double those of a year ago. Thus cabbage is up about 60 per cent, compared with a year ago; beets, 20 per cent; tomatoes, 70 per cent; turnips, 25 to 50 per cent; and spinach, 100 per cent. This should be soothing news indeed for strained muscles and tired backs.

A scientific meeting in Salt Lake City recently was told that cancer is mainly a matter of cellular malnutrition which is related in some way to the abandonment by many of the world's people of a diet processed mostly by nature, in favor of food processed mostly by man.

Such methods as picking green fruit and allowing it to ripen in shipment, one doctor noted, destroy many of the vital elements found in sun-ripened, nature-processed food. The Victory gardener, who is able to pick peas or beans right from his patch and pop them into a pot, may, therefore, be helping the fight against cancer.

So, keep 'em hoeing, America. There are food, money and health in those back-yard vegetable patches.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

O Lord, our God, we come to thee in the Name of Jesus, Who is the Way, the Truth and the Life. Thou art a great God, and we would approach thee with feelings of reverence and holy fear. But thou art also our Father, having created and redeemed us, and we come to thee with the love and confidence of children. We thank thee that we have a true friend in Jesus Christ, Who willingly forsook His eternal glory that He might come to earth to reveal to man the only means of salvation from sin. We thank Thee that He is now our friend and advocate in heaven, always ready to share our burdens and lift our loads. Make us faithful unto Him Who was faithful unto us. Through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

SAVE THE FATS AND REVIVE OLDEN ART
OF MAKING OF SOAP

By Edna Stephany

Home Economics Representative Bucks County homemakers are out to conserve in every way possible. In the local defense council at Morrisville, many thrifty women are saving fat and vegetable oils and making a fine quality soap.

Five or six pounds of fat make a large batch of soap. However, soap may be made from smaller amounts, but the time required is about the same. Any fat not suitable for cooking may be used, but all fat must be free from water and meat juices as these turn the fats rancid.

Excess fat, such as that on meat rinds and suet may be rendered and saved for soap. Cut the fat into small pieces, put into a kettle with a small amount of water, and cook over a moderate or low heat. Strain to remove all cracklings, let cool, and skim off the fat.

Stored fat that has become rancid is still good for soap. To help remove the odor, add a sliced potato for every two to three pounds of fat, bring to a boil, cool, and strain. A little toilet water or oil of perfume may be added.

The best soaps are made from a combination of hard and soft fats. Tallow is hard fat; pork is a medium fat; and chicken and vegetable fats are soft. Mineral oil should not be used in making soap.

The three necessary ingredients for soap are water, fat, and lye. Others that may be added include color, perfume, borax, pumice, and glycerine.

Lye can be obtained in cans containing one pound or less and comes in powder or crystal form. There are two kinds of lye: caustic potash and caustic soda. Both have an eating action and should be handled carefully.

The following method making soap has proved satisfactory:

6 pounds or 13½ cups of combination fats

2½ pints or 5 cups of water

1 can (13 ounces) high test lye

Dissolve the lye in water, using an enamel pan or earthen crock and wooden or enamel spoon; cool to 80 degrees Fahrenheit. Melt the fat until it is a clear liquid, cool to about 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Pour the lye slowly into the fat, stirring the solution steadily and slowly. Stir until it becomes thick like honey, then pour into a box lined with waxed or heavy wrapping paper. Cut when cool, remove the cakes, and stack to dry in a dark place.

Two or three tablespoons of borax may be added to the solution as the lye and fat are combined. This quickens the sudsing action of the soap. For an abrasive soap, add 4 pounds of pumice or whitening to the mixture as it thickens.

Here are several tips to save soap: let it ripen or harden before using; keep the soap dish dry; put small bits of soap into a jar and add water to form a soap jelly.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Shanghai—city of sin, revelry, garish wealth, crawling poverty, the earth's last melting pot—is the setting of the production, "The Shanghai Gesture," which will have its local premiere at the Bristol Theatre today.

The story which unfolds against the background of this color-splashed city is raw, stark stuff of life. No character in the story could pass as a model man or woman. Hate, greed, avarice, vengeance, unsaintly passions—all stalk and strut.

RITZ THEATRE

"Always In My Heart," which starts a local engagement at the Ritz Theatre, is, according to critics who have previewed it in Hollywood, just the prescription for chasing away your blues. And the young lady who will do it for you is Miss Gloria Warren, the 15-year-old singing star.

Porch Party Surprises

By BETTY BARCLAY

This is a "Porch Party" year. You have probably sensed it already. With gas limited and thousands of cars jacked up for the duration, time has paused in its flight and then waited back to grandmother's youth, when porch parties, lawn luncheons and plain sociable get-togethers of friends and neighbors were the order of the day. "We can't ride far, so we'll get acquainted with our neighbors" is again a popular slogan.

Make your porch luncheons so delightful that your new friends won't want to leave our modern "horse and buggy" days. Here are a few recipes for dishes that will aid you materially.

Porch Party Cofolate

1 cup strong decaffeinated coffee
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
3 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt
8 cups milk

Make decaffeinated coffee extra-strength using 1½ tablespoons for each cup (½ pint) water. Add chocolate to coffee in top of double boiler and place over low flame, stirring until chocolate is melted and blended. Add sugar and salt, and boil 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Place over boiling water. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly; then beat. When hot, beat with rotary egg beater until frothy. Serve hot or chill and serve iced. Top with whipped cream, if desired. Serves 4. Your guests can drink second cups without worrying over sleeping problems.

Magic Fresh Fruit Refrigerator Cake

1½ cups (15 oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
¼ cup lemon juice
1 cup quartered cherries, whole raspberries or sliced strawberries
24 vanilla wafers

Blend sweetened condensed milk and lemon juice. Stir until mixture thickens. Add prepared fruit. Line narrow, oblong pan or spring form cake pan with wax paper. Cover with fruit mixture. Add layer of wafers, alternating in this way until fruit mixture is used; finishing with layer of wafers. Chill in refrigerator 6 hours or longer. To serve, turn out on small platter and carefully remove wax paper. Even beginner cooks can be sure of success because the recipe is magically failure proof.

Ice Cream Sandwich with Peaches

Use eight 1½ inch wedges of sponge cake, allowing two for each serving. Place a slice of brick vanilla ice cream on one wedge and cover with the second, turning so that the narrow end is above wide end of bottom cake wedge. Top with quick-frozen sliced peaches, just thawed, using 1 box. Serves 4. Quick-frozen peaches come to you all sliced and sweetened, so they are super savors. They're time savers, too, for all quick-frozen fruits and vegetables are sorted, cleaned and trimmed before quick-freezing seals in their full complement of vitamins and minerals.

POSTPONE BOUTS BECAUSE OF WEATHER

The boxing bouts scheduled for the St. Ann's A. A. arena last night were called off because of threatening weather.

As both windup fighters, Joe Belfiore and Billy Woods, are booked elsewhere next week, it is unlikely that bouts will be held here then.

Promotor Clem Cipparone will make a further announcement as to when the next show will be held.

VOLTZ NINE WINS EIGHT STRAIGHT GAMES

The winning streak of the Voltz-Texaco team reached eight straight last night as the gasoliers beat out the Diamond nine, 3-1, on St. Ann's field.

"Loggie" Braggs, who last season twirled for the Diamond boys, set down his old team-mates with four bingles, two of which went to his mound opponent, "Eddie" Sullivan.

Sullivan did excellent work on the hill for Diamond until an error upset his plans in the fifth which enabled two Voltz runs to cross and decide the issue. He fanned ten batters.

With the score, 1-1, in the last half of the fifth, hits by Baiocchi, Cooper and Mazzilla, with an error by Locke, sandwiched between, gave the gasoliers the pair of markers which won the game.

EDGELY DEFEATS ST. ANN'S; FOUR INNINGS OF GAME WERE A REAL PITCHERS' CONTEST

EDGELY, July 7.—St. Ann's A. A. blew up in the final innings of its tilt with Edgely last night and as the result suffered a 12-1 defeat at the hands of the first half champions.

For four frames the contest was a pitcher's duel between Howie Black and Joe LaPolia. During this stretch, Black gave up three hits while LaPolia was nicked for two and as the result of an error, Edgely was leading 1-0.

But in the fifth, St. Ann's went to pieces and with it went LaPolia. Two errors, a walk, and five hits, including a triple by Leigh, gave the Edgelyites seven runs and after Leigh's triple, LaPolia was removed from the mound.

Petrick pitched the next inning, but he retired in favor of Angelina, the Edgely team scoring four more tallies. While this was going on, Black was still master of the "Saints." He continued to blank them until the final canto when an error by Felkner, a stolen base, and a hit by Petrick gave them their only marker.

Felkner played a nice fielding game for the winners while collecting two out of four with the stick. Out of the five St. Ann's hits, LaPolia had a triple and single to his credit.

The War at A Glance

tive, the Allied Nations possessed the will to win—the resources of victory. Moscow admitted that the Nazi hordes were plunging ahead in the Ukraine on the road to the rich oil fields of the Caucasus and the Middle East. Red armies fought fiercely to stem the advance west of Voronezh which controls the rail line from Moscow to Rostov—gateway to the Caucasus.

This keypoint lay 130 miles east of Kursk, and 75 miles to the south the Germans hammered at Staraiy Oskol with mighty tank divisions. But there had been no break-through. The Russians gave ground and yielded towns, but held their forces intact, meanwhile taking a heavy toll of enemy manpower and equipment.

The official Soviet communique made no admission concerning the German claim to have crossed the River Don.

In Egypt where the Axis was attempting to thrust the right arm of the pincers against the Middle East and the Caucasus, the desert army of Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel withdrew again to the west after failing to dent the lines of the British Eighth Army, making a successful stand 70 miles west of Alexandria. Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck made no boastful claims, asserting merely that the fighting around El Alamein was developing "satisfactorily for the Allies."

Military observers said the next few days should determine whether Rommel will be decisively defeated or will resume his drive towards Alexandria and Suez.

The Luftwaffe raided a northeast English coast town dropping hundreds of incendiaries but caused only slight damage. It was officially denied that there had been any raid on Northern Ireland where American troops are quartered.

Man Fined for Violation Of The Blackout Rules

night and paid a fine of $75 and costs of $5, making $80 in all.

Loeffler was accused by Robert J. Johnston, auxiliary policeman, of failing to comply with Temporary Rule 111 of the Air Raid Precautions Act, after being notified of a violation.

Johnston was the first witness to testify. He was questioned by Assistant District Attorney Curtin and gave his residence as Third avenue, Croydon. He said that the Loeffler residence was in his territory to patrol as an emergency police officer. The witness stated that at about 9:50 on the night of June 23rd he was informed by a Boy Scout that "there is a light in a house down the road." Johnston went to investigate and saw a light at the Loeffler house which could be seen from the outside. The curtain was down. There was a light in only one room.

Johnston said that he called "Lew" and informed him about the light. "What light," Loeffler was quoted as saying. "Can't you black it out; you can see it from the road," Johnston said he told Loeffler.

"I am going to put the light out," Loeffler was said to have informed Johnston.

Then Loeffler was said to have told Johnston that he would not put the light out for him or anyone else.

Loeffler was described as being sober at the time and in fact Johnston said that he did not think Loeffler drank.

Johnston told Loeffler, he said, that he would report him, and his reply was that he didn't care what he did. Johnston said that he then sent the message to headquarters.

The next witness was Elmer James, air raid warden. James said that Loeffler blacked out completely for the actual blackout period. The witness also said that a light showed at the Loeffler house during a previous blackout.

Taking the stand in his own behalf, Loeffler told Justice Laughlin that he could not put the light out because of the illness of his baby. He has two children and said that he has lived in Croydon for 18 years and is a citizen, having been born in the United States.

Loeffler said that his baby is three years old and that there must be a light in the room because of the baby's condition. When asked why he did not blackout the windows, his answer to Attorney Curtin was that the baby had to have air. Mr. Curtin asked him why he did not get dark curtains or a blue light. "I do the best that I can," replied the witness.

Loeffler's entire defense was that he had to have the light because of the condition of the baby.

Attorney Curtin asked him what he would do in another blackout, and Loeffler answered that he would keep the light burning, as it was a matter of life and death, due to the condition of his child.

In the opinion of Attorney Curtin and Justice Laughlin, Loeffler had not shown the proper spirit of co-operation, and the fine and costs were imposed.

The borough is to be placarded, and the constable to be instructed to enforce the ruling.

In the absence of president Norman Davis, the chair was occupied last night by Alvin Schoenfeld. Other councilmen present were: Reginald Webb, Raymond VanArtsdalen, George Bilger, A. E. A. Bronson, and Fred Bunting. Also present was Burgess Leon R. Comly; and records were in charge of Frank Forker.

Numerous items of business came before the session. It was stated that some nuisances, such as cess-pools overflowing, had been abated, with action to be taken in other instances. A letter from Albert M. Morris, Langhorne, representing the state health officials, told that more corrections are to be made. Council received information from state health officials on changes in quarantines for various diseases, the same to be turned over to Constable Orville Morris.

A communication was read by the borough solicitor, Isaac J. VanArtsdalen, Doylestown, dealing with the question of Reetz avenue, which operators of two local industrial firms had requested council to improve. The letter from the solicitor dealt with various phases of the status of said thoroughfare. Discussion followed as to responsibility for maintenance, etc., with no action taken at this time.

In regard to nuisance of dogs running at large, it was reported that this matter has been greatly improved, with fines levied in many instances. The matter will be followed up, it was reported to council, with residents being required to keep dogs under surveillance at all times, and properly licensed.

Discussion took place on possibility of council and residents co-operating in installation of curbs and gutters in certain areas where residents are willing to co-operate for such improvement. Another improvement for the borough which was given consideration was the matter of installing street signs, either wood or metal. Estimates are to be secured. No report was received from the borough treasurer.

Letters are to be addressed to violators of parking regulations, it being stated that some individuals leave cars on the streets or sidewalks throughout the night.

The secretary was instructed to write the Philadelphia Transportation Company, inquiring about possibility of having that company's buses enter the borough.

Order was given that weeds on the two "fire-roads" leading from Main street to Neshaminy Creek be cut. The wage scale for labor in the borough was set at 60 cents per hour.

Borough auditors were ordered to proceed with auditing of the books of the retiring tax collector, Ashbel Buckman. The tax duplicate was also presented to council.

Councilman Bilger reported that the Cadet Drum & Bugle Corps of Soby Post, Langhorne, has been granted permission to parade in the borough Friday evening next at eight o'clock, prior to the festival sponsored by William Penn Fire Co. If weather is inclement they will parade through the borough streets on Saturday evening.

Bills ordered paid included: Advance Publishing Co., advertising, $4.65; stationery, $19.15; Bell Telephone Co., $16; Bristol Pig Co., advertising, $3; Langhorne Water Co., $6; Phila. Electric Co., $62.78; Frank Forker, $5; Henry Palmer Co., $18.12; Weller & Weller, street repairs, $126.25; Fred Reetz, $8. Total, $253.11, leaving a treasury balance of $506.89.
